

Have you ever thought about the clothes we wear? Clothes not only protect our body from dust and dirt but also make us look smart.

Clothes protect our body from heat and cold too.

They also tell people many things about us. They can show others what work we do.

For many kinds of works, people wear special clothes. Sportspersons need clothes that are light and easy to move in. So cyclists, tennis players and footballers wear shorts, and swimmers wear swimsuits. Some people do dangerous work. So, they wear clothes accordingly. They wear special clothes.

The people working in mines cover their heads with helmets. Soldiers usually wear green or brown clothes so that they are not easily seen among the bushes.

School children have to wear proper uniforms in their schools. Some other people like postmen, policemen, doctors, astronauts and lawyers also wear uniforms. Their uniforms make them look different from others.
